

MANY CASES OF MEASLES REPORTED

With a dozen known cases of measles and a number of other pupils kept from school under observation, Sierra Madre is sharing in the epidemic of measles which has been prevailing in various Southern California Cities.

All the known cases have been among pupils of Miss Gardner's room at the public school, children about nine or ten years of age. All seem to be due to failure to report the first cases promptly to the health officers according to law so that the proper precautions should be taken. The failure to report seems to have been due to misunderstanding.

Kindergarten Closed

As a matter of precaution the kindergarten department has been closed. Dr. Mackerras, the city health officer, has ordered that the primary departments of the Sunday schools be also, until further notice.

Close watch is kept on all school pupils by the teachers, and Mrs. Jensen, municipal nurse, visits the school daily for inspection. Every pupil showing any symptoms, usually in the apparent form of a cold, is sent home to await developments.

Must Be Reported

Dr. Mackerras calls attention to the state law which requires that all infectious diseases, including measles, must be reported in writing to the health officer by the attending physician, or if there be no physician, by the heads of the family. The report should give the name and age of the patient, address and character of disease.

Costly Failure

All the present trouble seems to be traceable to misunderstanding over the reporting of the first case in the G. A. Anderson family on Bonita Ave. As a result, no information of the appearance of measles in Sierra Madre reached the health officer for ten days, and no precautions were taken until a large number of children had been exposed.

The Anderson children appeared to be suffering from colds but not severe enough to need a physician. Mrs. Jensen who happened to be making a professional visit near by was called in. She advised that a physician be called at once. Dr. Krebs was accordingly called in, and upon being informed that the municipal nurse had inspected the cases assumed that the necessary report had been made. The result shows the necessity of securing prompt medical advice in all suspicious cases and of running the risk of reporting more than once rather than omitting a report.

MASONIC SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION Sierra Madre Lodge Visited by Grand Officers And Ramona Lodge

Grand Lecturer Baker and District Inspector Test of the Masonic order visited Sierra Madre Lodge for the purpose of holding a school of instruction on Thursday afternoon and evening. The first and second degrees were exemplified in the afternoon and in the evening visiting members of Ramona lodge put on the third degree. Some of the members and visitors enjoyed dinner together at the Sierra Madre Inn between the sessions.

VOTER SHOULD REGISTER PROMPTLY

Time is Short To Get on Roll for the City Election

Voters who have not registered or who have changed their residence from one precinct to another since January 1, 1916, should register at once if they wish to vote at the special city election to be held on April 10. To be on the rolls the full thirty days before the election it will be necessary to register by Saturday, March 10.

Harry H. Hopkins was appointed registering officer for Sierra Madre this morning by County Clerk Leland. He can be found any day during business hours at the People's Hardware Store on the east side of Baldwin Ave., and persons wishing to register or to change their registration from one precinct to another should see him.

COLONIAL BIRTHDAY PARTY ENJOYABLE

Quaintly attired in colonial costumes, about thirty of the young friends of Miss Martha Frances Thompson gathered last Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Thompson of Canyon Ave., to help celebrate her tenth birthday anniversary. The house was prettily decorated with acacia, and in the dining room yellow tulle streamers from the chandelier were gathered in bows at the corners of the table.

Led by Miss Evelyn R. Hawes, esthetic dancer and Miss Lillian Carson, pianist, both of Pasadena, the guests presented a beautiful sight when dancing the Virginia reel. Dainty refreshments were served and each guest received as a favor a tiny colonial hat filled with candy and each containing a miniature pocketbook.

Miss Hawes with graceful abandon gave a very charming impersonation of an Indian girl dancing, and Miss Carson rendered some pleasing musical numbers. Several of the other guests also acquitted themselves most creditably at the piano. Out of town guests included the Miss Mary and Beatrice Williams of San Marino, Mrs. C. W. Beattie and daughter Ruth of Pasadena, Mrs. Corps and daughter Alice of El Monte, Mrs. Chas. Kuert and daughter Jean of Los Angeles, Miss Bernice Carson of Pasadena, Mrs. C. Allison and daughter Pearl of Los Angeles. Miss Martha Frances received a number of very attractive gifts in remembrance of the delightful occasion.

JAPANESE INJURED IN ODD ACCIDENT

Explosion of Gas in Gopher Hole May Cause Death

W. Komiya, a Japanese employed on the Santa Anita Ranch of Anita Baldwin, many die as the result of a peculiar accident Tuesday morning.

Poison gas had been forced into underground gopher warrens in an effort to exterminate a large colony of gophers. Komiya knelt before the mouth of one of the holes and endeavored to peer in. He could see nothing, and struck a match. There was a loud explosion and the Japanese was knocked backward, his face and chest terribly burned.

Rushed to the Haben Hospital, the accident victim was given prompt treatment. It was found the inside of the throat was also badly burned. Just how serious are the injuries cannot be determined at this time, but the area affected by the flames is considerable.—Monrovia News.

The Value of a Dollar Spent In California

The really great importance to every town in California of their own residents spending even so small a sum as one dollar with local merchants, instead of sending it away to the mailorder houses, is strikingly illustrated by an account given by Executive Secretary Chas. R. Thornburn, of the Home Industry League of California at the last meeting of the members.

"Hearing about the successful manner in which the 'Buy-at-Home' campaign is being conducted in California," said Mr. Thornburn, "the Retail Merchants' Association of one town decided to put to a practical test the actual purchasing power of a single dollar, and its debt-paying capacity, when kept at home and used in trade channels in the town where it was first earned. This compared to a similar dollar sent to Chicago for a mailorder, whence the dollar could never return to the town from which it was sent after being first earned.

"A dollar bill was labeled by the Merchants' association, the label requested all receivers to spend it for nothing but home-grown or home-made goods at some local store; each tradesman receiving it to put his own name, amount of purchase and the date of receipt, on the label,—the man who received in on the 30th day to send it back to headquarters of the association which would give out a second dollar in its place.

"At the end of thirty days it was found that sixty-eight merchants in that small city had made as many sales in which this dollar had been used as payment, or part payment, and of these sixty-eight trade beneficiaries two of them were the owners of the two local semi-weekly newspapers, each of which in turn received it, at different times during the month, for the payment of a total of seven subscriptions."

The Home Industry League is now proposing that each member of the California Press association start a similar dollar bill circulation campaign in the communities where each of the editors lives, as a practical way of educating their local townspeople into appreciating the value to each of them the value of spending their money in their own towns, as well as subscribing for the local newspapers who are spending so much of their hard-earned cash in teaching their fellow-citizens the value of "Buying-at-Home."

VICTIM WAS NOT LOCAL E. A. MILLER

But He and His Friends Had A Funny Feeling Over Accident Story

When E. A. Miller of East Grand View Ave., returned home from an auto trip through the San Fernando Valley Monday and picked up the evening paper he had to pinch himself to decide whether he was really at home or had been killed in collision with a train.

It was no wonder, for there was a story telling of the death by collision of an auto with an S. P. train near Pacoima station of E. A. Miller, described as a rancher, 60 years of age.

By a strange co-incidence Mr. Miller had driven over the same crossing within an hour or two of the time of the accident, the first time in years that he had traveled that road.

Some of Mr. Miller's friends had been given a shock upon reading the article also. But reassurance came with the further information that the accident victim was a visitor from another state.

ALWAYS REPORT STREET LIGHT "OUTS"

Co-operation of Citizens Needed To Secure Regular Service for the City

Whenever you notice a street lamp that is not burning at night you will confer a favor on others as well as yourself if you will report it promptly to the city hall. Neither the city nor the Edison Company has any method of determining when lights are out except by such reports and the personal observation of city officials. "Outs" are always replaced the same day reported if the report comes in early enough so if you happen to notice a light out of commission for two or three nights in succession you can just blame yourself for not reporting it the day after you first observed it.

HAMILTON SAYS BONDS WILL STICK

Supervisor Declares Talk of Flood Control Being Beaten Is Wrong

Supervisor John J. Hamilton has made the following statement in regard to the flood control bond issue which carried by a small margin at the polls last week:

"The friends of the Flood Control Bonds have no cause to feel alarmed. The bonds have carried by a safe majority. Both sides know this, but the opposition is seeking to raise doubt in the minds of the public in order to keep the bonds from selling.

"There is no doubt as to the constitutionality of the Baker Act under which the bond issue was called. It was passed upon by the Attorney General of the State of California and signed by Governor Johnson, who is himself an able constitutional lawyer. A tax has already been levied and collection under the Act and the opposition did not dare attack this action of the Board of Supervisors. We have the assurance of best bond authority in California that the bonds are legal.

SPECIAL CITY ELECTION TO BE CALLED APRIL 10; RECORDER IS APPOINTED

April 10 was selected by the city trustees as the date for the special election to fill the vacant city clerkship, at their meeting on Monday night.

No provision was made in the ordinance as introduced for the election at the same time of a trustee to succeed Mr. Hawks and such a provision was not even discussed. All the action of the board were in the direction of filling the place by appointment.

Time for Registering

The special election ordinance will probably be passed at the regular board meeting Thursday of next week. Voters will have until Saturday of next week for registration, provided they have not registered since Jan. 1, 1916, in the precinct in which they reside at present.

Trustee Hawks Resigns

Toward the close of the meeting, Trustee Hawks presented his resignation from the board in accordance with his intention reported in last week's News. The resignation was accepted with expressions of regret from his conferees.

Trustee Sperry proposed the name of D. F. Morton for the vacancy. Trustee Caskey said he thought it would be only the part of courtesy to await the return of Trustee Nourse from Bakersfield before taking action, which would probably be in time for the next regular meeting. Accordingly action was deferred.

Street Improvement

The ordinance of intention for the improvement of Alegria st., between Sunnyside and Sierra Madre Avenues, introduced at the last meeting in accordance with the petition of property owners, was adopted.

"Tin Can Contract"

Jack Richey who has had the contract for the monthly removal of tin cans and rubbish each month from the city informed the board by letter that he would be unable to carry out the contract another year unless the remuneration was increased from $84 to $100. The board thought the price a fair one and ordered the contract renewed.

Citizens may, therefore, continue to place their accumulated tin cans and other rubbish on the curb on the first Tuesday of each month for removal as in the past.

Ordinance Enforcement

Miss M. C. Brandt appeared to protest against further laxness in the enforcement of the ordinances restricting burro corrals. She said she and other residents of Mountain Trail Ave., had protested when the first corral had been brought into their neighborhood seven years ago, that they had been promised relief time and again, that ordinances had been passed and sustained by the courts and still conditions were intolerable. She thought it only fair that the people who had been promised protection should know who was responsible for failure to make the ordinances effective.

Chairman Dietz said it was time to get away from the old game of "passing the buck." He thought the thing ought to be settled one way or the other.

City Attorney Montgomery reviewed the status of the ordinances, particularly the one on which the city had won a victory in the lower court and which has been appealed by Mr. Boyd. He said he would take full responsibility for the lack of prosecutions to compel enforcement of the ordinance, because the matter had been placed in his hands by the board. But, he said, the first attempt at prosecution had ended in failure as he had expected for lack of sufficient evidence. He did not see how the necessary evidence could be collected without the expenditure of some money. That had not been authorized when he was told to go ahead and enforce the ordinance. Furthermore, since the death of Mr. Perry there has not been any city recorder before whom complaints could be filed or cases tried.

Mr. Montgomery suggested that if the board would give authority to spend a small amount of money in the collection of evidence and appoint a recorder he would have some prosecutions under way promptly. The board told him to go ahead and get his evidence and they would see him through so far as the expense was concerned and appoint a recorder at once.

Miss Brandt said the assurance was satisfactory.

Mr. Ham, who was among "those present," asked if the intention was to proceed against any one of the corral owners individually, or to make the enforcement general. He was assured that prosecutions would be instituted against all where evidence could be secured.

Street Trees

J. R. Oastler asked permission to remove a small pepper tree from the parking in front of his place and plant instead a flowering acacia. The request was granted.

H. E. C. Webb was granted permission to top the old pepper trees surrounding his place, the work to be done without expense to the city.

Stubbins Recorder

Some of the members of the board thought the recordership should go with the clerkship. The advantage of having the recorder within easy reach was pointed out, but the necessity for an immediate appointment could not be overlooked and it was finally decided to make an appointment temporarily, pending the election of a new city clerk. At that time, it was understood, it would be decided whether to continue the arrangement or to put the new clerk on the job.

W. H. Stubbins was proposed by Trustee Caskey and after further discussion, given the appointment.

METAL EXPERTS ARE IN DEMAND

Large increases in the prices of metals have brought with them increases in the demand for trained mining men and assayers, according to a special issued by the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., technical school. A number of young men from various sections of California have recently completed courses in mining, assaying, cyaniding, oil filtration and the like and have been immediately employed by some one of the big mining companies operating in the west. The salary of the beginner, it is said, approximates $125 on the average. Most of the Y. M. C. A. graduates in assaying courses are the products of three to six months, while the mining engineering experts require two years of study.

HARP SOLOIST FOR SYMPHONY

Delightful Novelty Provided On This Week's Pair of Programs

Programs of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra have been of continuous interest, each succeeding pair of concerts having something new to offer to Southern California concert goers. At the concerts of this week, Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, there are four numbers, every one of them a delight to the music lover. The prelude of Humperdinck's popular opera, "Hansel and Gretel," Borodin's second symphony and Ravel's "Spanish Rhapsodie."

The soloist, Signor S. R. Valenza, a harpist without peer in the West, who will play a Fantasy for Harp and orchestra, by Dubois, a prominent modern French composer.

Russian Symphony

Borodin was one of the handful of Russians who practically founded the modern Russian school of composition, trying to make it representative of Russian life and to free it somewhat from the classic trammels of Western Europe. His symphony is as representative as was the Bruckner symphony of the last pair of concerts.

Ravel's works show another angle of modern composition, and will be received with much interest by lovers of the modern music, as he is regarded as one of the leading exponents of modern musical thought as contrasted with the more conventional school. The attention the orchestra is drawing by its excellent work this season will result in a still better condition of musical affairs for succeeding seasons.

Recent arrivals at the Bella Vista Terrace are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Leslie of Detroit, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Allen, Jr. and son Oscar M. Allen III. of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mrs. F. L. Ramharther of Los Angeles was the guest of Mrs. LeVeaux on Tuesday.

WINTER PICNICS OF THE STATES

Three Big Re-unions Planned for the Next Two Weeks

The Iowa Association has been compelled to postpone its great annual picnic on account of the rains. It will now be held on the 3rd. of March in Eastlake Park, Los Angeles.

The new Park Commissioners have made the Hawkeyes happy by arranging to have two long seats at each of the county headquarters so that the older folks may not have to stand all day and also by allowing the county registers and headquarters to be arranged according to the map of the state thereby accomodating all picnickers.

The program, basket dinners, registers, college headquarters and all the detail will be carried out as planned before.

Illinois March 10th

Say There, All You Suckers: Just listen to the call for all who ever lived in Illinois to meet under the auspices of the Illinois Society of Los Angeles for an all day picnic reunion in Eastlake Park, Los Angeles, Saturday, March 10th, 1917. If rainy that date it will be held Saturday the 17th, same place. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. There will be county registers so you can find your old home neighbors even if there are ten thousand present.

There will be a brief program with music and greetings from Illinois speakers, but the main object will be to have a good time.

Michigan, March 17th

The Michigan Society of Southern California will hold its Annual Winter Picnic at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, on St. Patrick's Day.

A good program is being arranged, and it is expected that there will be over 10,000 former Michiganders in the great "Round-up." There are over 50,000 people from Michigan in Southern California.

Come and meet old friends from the Old Home State. They will be there, from your own home town and county. Look them up in the Register.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Pope of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Motchkiss of Buffalo were luncheon guests of Mrs. Frank J. Hart on Friday.

Mrs. S. D. Burton and son William Burton, left today for their home in Burley, Idaho after visiting several weeks at the Tuft and Morgridge homes, also in Long Beach.

"FIRST AID" CLASS WILL BE FORMED

Red Cross Chapter Secures the Assistance of Dr. Krebs

The regular weekly meeting of the Red Cross held last Tuesday afternoon was well attended. Considerable work was done by the members and tea was served before adjournment.

Miss Florie Vannier who has charge of the Tea room would greatly appreciate a donation of a few screens. Kindly notify her.

The amount received from the cooked food sale held on the 20th inst. has reached the sum of $42.00.

Great progress has been made in forming a Red Cross First Aid Class of 25 members in Sierra Madre. Fourteen have already enrolled and others who desire to join would do well to telephone Miss Edith Blumer before 12 noon or after 6 P. M. any day.

Dr. L. L. Krebs has very kindly consented to give the necessary instructions free of charge. The class as soon as completed will meet each Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Red Cross Chapter rooms on Baldwin Ave. The charge has been fixed at $2.00 for ten lessons which will defray the necessary expenses for books, charts, etc. Those who pass a successful examination will receive a certificate from the American National Red Cross. Any person over 16 years of age whether members or not of the Red Cross can join the First Aid Class.

A large amount of material has been purchased recently which will be ready in a few days to be given out and worked up by the members.

Mrs. Mary A. Goodfellow has kindly donated a large American Flag which adorns one of the windows of the chapter room.

Three new members have joined the local chapter the past week, Louis Dietz, Cedric W. Tarr and Lloyd Tarr who enjoy the distinction of being the youngest members of the local society. The latter secured a pot which he decorated with a red cross and hung it up soliciting donations. In this way he gathered 53 cents which he proudly handed in to the Treasurer.

NATION IS STIRRED PROFOUNDLY

BY REVELATION OF GERMAN PLOTS

The week's revelations at Washington are so astounding as to jolt severely people who have been habitually asking "what next?" for some time. Reports of the German conspiracy would be unbelievable but for White House confirmation. Several facts of importance have developed by reason of the week's happenings.

It is well to note also that too many of our people have been in the habit of giving foreign governments credit for all the clever "inside work." Although the exact source of the information is not divulged, there is evidence that the federal secret service is responsible and that the American government is not behind the rest in keeping informed as to the other fellow's business.

If any evidence were needed of the unity of Americans with relation to possible foreign foes, it has been supplied by the galvanizing of public sentiment into active support of the president.

The fact that President Wilson was in possession of the facts for some time without losing his head or being goaded into rash action is fresh commentary on the admirable poise he has maintained in all his diplomatic difficulties.

Study of the attitude of congressmen is interesting. Just as the west supported President Wilson last November because he was a man of peace, so when the necessity is seen to appear, the west is most thoroughly united in the effort to give him a free hand in taking care of the situation.

And just as the west has stood in the way of the program for compulsory military service in normal times, the west will lead in the furnishing of its quota of men if the real need appears.

The impossibility of bringing the Japanese government into conflict with the United States has been proven, as well as the weakness of a program of aggression through the instrumentality of Mexico.

PRICE-FIXING FOR MONOPOLY PRODUCTS

Commenting on the action of the news print paper trust in asking the Federal Trade Commission to fix a fair price for its products, the California Outlook says:

The action means not only an enormous saving to newspaper publishers (provided reasonable prices are fixed), but an entirely new function for the Federal Trade Commission. The petition of the Manufacturers and the action that will follow set a precedent for a great extension of the powers of this commission. Just what powers were given it in the law nobody seems to know. Few persons, however, have been rash enough to suggest that it had the one power which would justify its existence—the power to fix prices. Now comes a petition from a powerful trust in which the commission is asked to do that particular thing. It will of course comply; and the precedent will launch it on a course of fixing prices generally for monopolies. The incident is epochal. The Paper Trust, the Steel Trust, the Standard Oil Trust and other gigantic exploiters of the public will have their prices fixed for them by a Federal commission. By a happy turn of events a power which congress did not venture to give the Trade Commission comes to it. It is to be hoped that promptly and decisively it will exercise that power—in time extending its jurisdiction over every monopoly in the nation. We see no other remedy for the evils of monopoly price-fixing.

TOUCHING THE SPOT

In San Francisco, according to the American Federation of Labor's weekly news letter, the Chamber of Commerce has attributed to high wages a falling off of the city's manufacturing industries. Now comes the chamber's own expert, Dr. D. B. Rastall, who declares, after an investigation, in an address to the Labor Council, that it is the high cost of land in the business section, and not high wages, which is responsible. A similar investigation would have the same results in many other places. The business men of San Francisco who fought Singletax proposals have been doing all they could to commit industrial suicide.

ENDANGERING "PERSONAL LIBERTY" IN CHINA

The Chinese opium trade may have an extension of life on account of unsettled conditions in China. An agreement between Great Britain and China in 1907 provided for a reduction of 10 per cent a year of the opium imported into China, provided that the government of that country made a similar reduction in the amount grown in the Chinese Empire. Under this agreement the amount of British imports of opium into China dropped from 82,612 chests to 7,487 in 1914. The Chinese revolution has made it impossible to carry out the opium law in its entirety, but the government has refused to extend the life of the opium monopoly.

KNEW IT

Yearly report of the state tax commission came to hand this morning. Time has not permitted examination of the whole report, but the first glance caught this significant line on the first page: "The commission finds that the state tax system is a failure. It is a week argument for any system of taxation merely to say that it raises enough revenue." One need not be a Single Taxer to arrive at that conclusion.

WITH SCISSORS AND PASTE

WHAT ADVERTISING HAS DONE

FOR THE CALIFORNIA ORANGE

Here is the estimate of the California Fruit Growers Exchange of the value of the advertising campaigns which have featured "Sunkist" brands, expressed in the "Sunkist Courier," official organ of the association:

How much, Mr. Grower, will you take for the name "Sunkist Oranges" or "Sunkist Lemons?" How many millions in gold? We won't set a definite price but seven figures are not ridiculously high.

"Unceda Biscuit" is figured as a $6,000,000 asset on the books of the National Biscuit Company. "Fairy Soap" and "The Gold Dust Twins" are $10,000,000 assets to the N. K. Fairbanks Company. Of course "Sunkist" may not be as well known as these other marks but 100 housewives know "Sunkist" to one that knows any other brand of oranges.

Advertising has created this value. It works in the minds of all consumers and, though some people say that they do not believe in advertising, investigation soon shows that they are wearing and using advertised products. The average housewife knows what she is using and is careful to specify a brand of merchandise even though she is not sure just what prompted her to do so.

Dealers are apt to be neutral on the matter of advertising. If they sell advertised products it is because their customers ask for them. Dealers will not sell an article on which they do not make a profit and it is proper that they should refuse to do so. The margin of profit for the dealer is often smaller on an advertised product than it is on one which is not advertised but the former is sold more easily and rapidly because the customer is already half convinced. The dealer is merely following the line of least resistance and his total net profit is greater on advertised brands.

A trade mark is one of the most indestructible and hard-working things on earth as long as the standard of quality of the article is not lowered. A trade mark gains its power from public opinion and can not be burned, lost or destroyed except by betraying this public trust. Advertising has a cumulative effect, every advertisement not only winning a few more customers but also holding those already won and encouraging them to order more of the product.

HENEY'S WORK EFFECTIVE

Hemet News:—The print paper robbers are coming down the tree. The government investigation, conducted by Francis J. Heney, has proved conclusively that there is no justification for the present high prices, and rather than go to jail the manufacturers have agreed to arbitrate by making substantial reductions. It is said that the mills will soon offer paper at a price little advanced over old schedules.

Heney has gone after the paper robbers with the same indomitable courage and thoroughness of preparation with which he confronted the San Francisco corporation looters. The evidence against the manufacturers is said to be complete, and not withstanding the disposition of the manipulators to recede from their former arbitrary stand, criminal prosecution will follow.

When the government can spare Heney it might be a good idea for California to put him in the governor's chair for a term or two. There are political and economic problems in this state which need attention in the rough-shod and effective manner which Heney has shown in the work previously undertaken.

DANGERS OF "DEFENSIVE" WARFARE

Duluth Herald:—Compulsory universal military training having been reported out of a Senate committee, is now before the Senate and the country. And it is a more vital matter than the crisis with Germany, and a graver peril lurks within it. It is a proposal that this country adopt a military policy modeled on the practices that have put Europe where it is today. Those who propose such plans as these are usually cunning, and this case is no exception.

The reserve army created by the compulsory service plan would be available, according to terms of the bill, "only in the event of a DEFENSIVE war or the imminence thereof." When you hear that, gentle reader, you are supposed to say: "Oh, only a defensive war, eh? Well, then, that's all right." Can the American people be fooled by such chaff as that? Germany is fighting a defensive war today, as her people profoundly believe. Turkey is fighting a defensive war. So is France. So is England. EVERY NATION AT WAR IN EUROPE TO-DAY IS FIGHTING A DEFENSIVE WAR. Indeed, there is no other kind of war nowadays but a defensive war. "Defensive" is one of the militarist's conjuring words, wherewith he hoodwinks the people—and its sister word is "patriotism."
